DANIELSON

By the time this item is being read by the average person in Danielson this Friday (morning) there likely will have been some action intended to stop the operation of "buses" in competition with the trolley road in this territory.

The buses will start out as usual this morning. The drivers anticipate that they will be held up and arrested for driving without the requisite permits, but bonds will be promptly furnished for them and they will go back onto their runs ready to be arrested again if necessary, and again bailed.

It is possible that there may be no attempt today to enforce the new regulation, but if there is and the bus people are held into the town court for having violated the regulation, it is now regarded as a part of the motor vehicle law of the state they will in all probability enter a demurrer. This might be argued in the local court or, if the circumstances warranted an appeal, later in the superior court.

Counsel E. L. Darbie for the Pellet bus line said Thursday that the bus line will continue to run until such time as the legal issues that will be raised have been definitely settled by the courts and Mr. Pellet said that he will carry the matter to the supreme court of the state before he gives up his fight for the right to continue the business he has established and which has been carrying thousands of passengers.

Everything considered, there should be transportation in plenty today, whatever else may be doubtful about the situation. The trolley road will inaugurate the service described in Thursday's Bulletin and the buses will keep to their regular schedule.

The public is intensely interested in the possibilities for developments today in the transportation field, and it is a chief topic of discussion.

Chamber of Commerce members are interested in the prospects of securing a new industry for Danielson through the activities of the organization. It was stated Thursday that parties who have become interested in a small plant in town would be shown about it and told the advantages of locating in this town.

terbury attending a convention of representatives of the police departments of the state. Mr. Wolfe is an officer of the organization. During Mr. Wolfe's absence Officer Christopher Andrews is on night duty.

These seemed to be an indication about town on Thursday to ask, with the consent of the Goodyear company, permission from the public utilities commission for the right to run the Goodyear line bus into Danielson, instead of limiting them to the Goodyear-Dayville run, as is now being done. Business men regard the shutting out of the Goodyear line, run chiefly for the benefit of the mill company's employees and for the people of Goodyear in general, as injurious to the borough's business interests. The Goodyear line has been established for years and was only incidentally and in a very small way a competitor of the trolley road. It was a big trade bringing about to Danielson and will be greatly missed.

A large number went to Woodstock Park Thursday evening and the dancing was enjoyed by Miss Harriet Westworth and Miss Helen Tuck, Oxford girls, who are eight years of age. Their dancing was one of the special features arranged for the entertainment of the patrons by Manager F. J. Sheridan, of the park.

Henry Dembs has leased the store and purchased the fixtures with the exception of the stock of the New Idea Shoe store and will open with an entirely new stock at the prevailing low market prices. The store will be known as Henry Dembs's New Idea Shoe Store, Center street, opposite the Orpheum theatre.

Mowbray pond was a Mecca to which scores of Danielson people motored on Thursday afternoon and during the early evening to enjoy the bathing. Mowbray pond is comparatively new as a resort for the majority of Danielson people who are now visiting it so frequently, yet becoming very popular. It has a pretty and sandy little beach on the east shore with shallow water for a considerable distance out from the shore. Thursday being a half-holiday many motored down to the pond to enjoy the bathing. The chief handicap is lack of bath houses, but the popularity of the place, the beauty of the view, and the fact that it is a new resort, may result in the construction of these.

Misses Ella Sidney, Beatrice Southill, Emma Charley, Margaret Sullivan, Georgia Godreau and Mrs. Mary Reynolds motored to Ocean beach Thursday afternoon.

Danielson residents heard with great interest of the plan to improve as a section of state highway the stretch of road leading from Dayville Four Corners past the town farm and across the section to the north, for the state will have strong support.

Attention of motorists inclined to reckless driving is directed to the new provisions of the motor vehicle law. For reckless driving the penalty on the first offense is not less than $100 nor more than $200, or one year in jail, or both. Formerly the fine was $25 for a first offense. There are many other heavy penalties in the motor vehicle law as amended by the last legislature and effective the first of the present month.

There is a rumor about town that the old road-bed of the Providence and Danielson road from East Killingly to North Danielson may come into use again for some kind of a transportation system, of just what variety no one seems to know. East Killingly people have heard considerable talk about the proposal, but nothing definite. Last fall and winter the rails and ties of the trolley road bed, with some improvement, may be put into use for some sort of transportation line. East Killingly people greatly miss the rail connection with Providence that they enjoyed for so many years.

Not a band concert has been given on Davis park this season and there does not appear to be prospects of any being heard there. The very pretty band stands in service but no more than a ceremonial purpose and as a popular love nest for wooing couples. Some time since the matter of band concerts was taken up by the chamber of commerce, but nothing came of the discussion. It is believed that concerts can be obtained only by popular subscription and by taking collections for other concerts among the crowds who gather to hear the music.

Twicely all the old "spunkies" holes near Danielson have been abandoned by the great majority of bathers, and perhaps it is just as well, for most of these holes are the past year's debris or "spunkies." The "spunkies" on the Quinsbaug river formerly was a great favorite. It is no longer popular, as several drownings have occurred there as the result of the swift current. Love's Cove was another favorite bathing place, but this too has lost its popularity. The Cold spring on the Pike-Mo river, near old Fretwell farm, and the Cold Spring on the Quinsbaug, between Dayville street and the Quinsbaug mill also have been abandoned, though hundreds of boys formerly went swimming there in the past. Few bathes in the rivers now, preferring the small lakes and large ponds. Sewage and dyes in the waters of the rivers are responsible in large measure for the bathers avoiding the streams.

For the first time in months trollers will run between Central Village and Mowbray today.

Mr. C. T. Thayer and son, Ayward, of Putnam were visitors here on Thursday. Irving Lester, who has been engaged in business here for the past year, is contemplating locating in a Rhode Island town.

Richard A. Bailey of South Norwalk was a visitor with friends in Danielson on Thursday.

A number of Danielson people selected Lake Chaubauque as the place to spend their Thursday half-holiday. The silent effort that was smashed some months ago at Attawaug has been replaced and help reduce the chance of accidents at the cross roads. The grape crop now promises to be better than was anticipated following the freeze during May, but will not be near so bountiful as of there had been no setback.

An all night restaurant service, something new for Danielson, has been inaugurated here.

Finish people make up the bulk of the new farmers coming into town in this part of Windham county.

There promises to be some lively competition between the buses that have been on the job and those to be operated between Danielson and Brookfield and Dayville and Attawaug by the Connecticut company.

When a princess of the British royal family stands as godmother to a child it is etiquette that she should make a present to the nurse, usually $25.

FACE THE SUNSHINE

Face the sunshine—let the shadows lie behind you;
Face the sunshine from life's dawning to its night;
Face the sunshine, though at first its brightness blind you—
Face the sunshine! Keep the shadow out of sight.

Face the sunshine—let its beams your smiling heighten;
Face the sunshine—let its rays suffuse your soul;
Face the sunshine—let its warmth your pleasure heighten;
Face the sunshine and be quit of grief and dole.

Face the sunshine—let its sweet caress remind you of the brightness we should scatter through the years;
Face the sunshine—let the shadows fall behind you,
And the sunshine will put rainbows in your tears!

PUTNAM

As the result of being kicked in the stomach Wednesday night by a horse that he was trying to catch Fred Davidson, 32, in the Day Kimball hospital in Putnam, and Thursday afternoon he was held out for his recovery. Davidson was brought to the hospital Thursday morning from his home in East Woodstock. It was shortly after 1 o'clock Wednesday night that Davidson, who is a truck gardener, went out to a pasture on his farm to catch a horse that had been feeding there. As he caught hold of the halter, the horse pulled away from him, turned and reared, and kicked him in the pit of the stomach. Dr. Ernest R. Pike was called, and Thursday morning Davidson's condition was so serious that he was transferred from his home to the hospital.

Baseballers are beginning to appear in Putnam markets, yet the price is still so high as to make them a comparative luxury. Youngsters who spend the day in the berry fields are reporting that the crop this year is not as good as usual.

The bushes are not well filled and the berries are smaller.

Captain John Bulger of the police department, recently had a complaint from a man in Manassett village who alleged that as he was sitting on the steps at his home, some children threw a branch of poison ivy at him, and as a consequence of this his arm and face became badly swollen. The names of the youngsters, who he declared were responsible for his condition were given to the captain, who is investigating the story.

The partnership conducted under the name of F. X. Lucier and Brother. Previously the co-partners were Frank X. Lucier and Napoleon Lucier. The business will be conducted in the future by the former.

A good southern breeze Thursday brought a most disconcerting odor into the Pleasant Valley, Grove street and Oak Hill sections of the city, and served to remind the residents of the fact that the city dump, which has recently been a subject of discussion by the city fathers, still exists. Those who live within range of the dump which was recently characterized by twenty-five petitioners as a "puissance of the worst kind" are anxiously waiting to see what action the city council will take at the August meeting. The result of the petition demands for remedial measures were presented at the July session.

City Tax Collector Archibald MacDonald, Jr., was in his office Thursday collecting property taxes levied on the grand list for 1921.

Members of the Canadian Athletic club are planning for an outing and clamhake, next month on the Hopkins farm.

At the Second Congregational church Thursday night the regular mid-week prayer meeting took the form of a testimonial service in honor of Miss Phoebe Bead, a member of the church, and for a number of years a resident of Putnam, who is to go next month with her father, Dr. Willard Bead, as a missionary to China. This is the third similar meeting Miss Bead has had in her honor. In Boston a few weeks ago a meeting for all the recently appointed missionaries was held and last week in Berlin, where Miss Bead has been teaching during the past year, a missionary service was held. At the meeting Thursday night in Putnam, Mrs. Charles Letters sang, My Task, Miss Bead spoke and told of her training and of the delight with which she looked forward to going to Poo Chow where she is to do her work, and where her mother and father have spent their lives in missionary activity. Miss Bead has been teaching during the past year, a missionary service was held. At the conclusion of which he presented Miss Bead a sum of money, in gold, from the members of the church.
